Rise in SCBO Cooperative Program Giving Impacts Ohio and Beyond

Thank you, Ohio Baptists!

Cooperative Program giving is on the rise at SCBO and the impact is not only felt locally here in the Buckeye State but also nationally through the North American Mission Board and our six seminaries, and globally through the International Mission Board.

Since 1925, the Cooperative Program has provided a comprehensive funding mechanism for like-minded Baptist churches to support missions around the world, all the time, at the same time.

It was in my hometown of Memphis, Tennessee, that the Cooperative Program was officially adopted as our primary funding mechanism for missions and evangelism. In May, the Cooperative Program will celebrate 100 years of cooperative efforts among Southern Baptists.

Since SCBO began in 1954, Ohio Baptists have contributed over $188,000,000 through the Cooperative Program to fund missionaries, disaster relief efforts, church planting, church revitalization, chaplaincies, evangelistic initiatives, discipleship strategies, pastor care, Christian education, Baptist communications, compassion ministries, and more.

The Cooperative Program has enabled us to see over eighty churches planted and replanted and a ninety-six percent increase in baptisms over the past three years!

Nearly eighty missionaries serving overseas with the International Mission Board are from Ohio and your Cooperative Program dollars are sustaining them on the mission field.

Students from cooperating churches in Ohio who attend one of our six seminaries have half of their tuition covered by Cooperative Program funding.

We are thankful for the churches that give faithfully and sacrificially through the Cooperative Program to help us reach our neighborhoods in Ohio and the nations around the world for Christ. We appreciate all who openly promote, support and commit to the Cooperative Program among our family of churches, associations, and ministry partners.

May Ohio Baptists commit ourselves to the celebration and promotion of the Cooperative Program within our churches, associations, and entities in its one-hundredth year.

Thank you for helping us invite churches to rediscover gospel multiplication due to your giving through the Cooperative Program.

Moving forward,

Dr. Jeremy Westbrook

Jesus is Worthy of Our Best

10 "Truly, truly, I say to you, he who does not enter the sheepfold by the door but climbs in by another way, that man is a thief and a robber. 2 But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3 To him the gatekeeper opens. The sheep hear his voice, and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. 4 When he has brought out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice.

The Holy Bible: English Standard Version (Jn 10:1–4). (2016). Crossway Bibles.

A new year is often a time for us to take stock of our stewardship. It reminds us that we have choices. We have been and will continue to make choices about how we steward our time, talents, finances, health, relationships, etc.

Jesus is the Good Shepherd. We are his sheep. In this short passage, we learn a few things about ourselves:

1. Jesus' sheep hear his voice
2. Jesus knows your name...he knows you personally
3. Jesus' sheep follow him

As you reflect on your stewardship choices, I want to encourage you to remember that Jesus knows you. He loves you. If you get better at listening to and following him, you won't be more saved. He knows your name. He loves you!

I also want to challenge you: Jesus is worthy of your best. What can you do this year to better hear his voice? What can you do this year to better follow him? Whatever it is, Jesus is worthy!

One of the great things about being an Ohio Baptist is the support. Help is just an email or phone call away. There are amazing resources in our state to help church leaders. We can help you proclaim the Word of Christ in your community so that lost people can hear and respond to the gospel! You can always reach me at president@scbo.org.

Grace and Peace,

Adam Pursel

Completing Annual Church Profile Benefits SCBO Churches

Each year Southern Baptist congregations are asked to report several statistics about their church in a document known as the Annual Church Profile (ACP).

But why should SCBO churches complete the ACP? There are many good reasons. Here are just a few:

It is good to stop and see the condition of your flock

Jesus frequently gave illustrations about shepherds and sheep. The shepherd only knows they have all their sheep if they count them. When one is missing, they leave the others to go get the one. Church leaders have this same responsibility to keep a count.

It is good to share your numbers with someone else

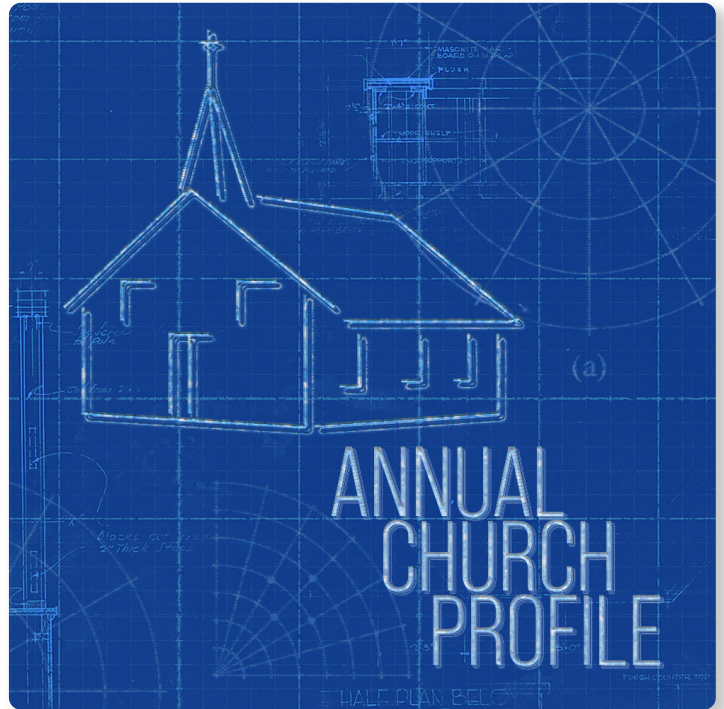

Near the end of his earthly life Jesus had a conversation of this type with the Father. He reports that he had been given a dozen men “entrusted to him.” He gave a report that he had kept them all except the son of destruction (John 17:9-12). Jesus was willing for John to publish those numbers!

Yes, we can have this accountability discussion with God, but the transparency of sharing them with someone else keeps us from pretending with others that things are different than they are. While we want to set a positive tone, this transparency shows our hope is not dependent on being bigger, better, or without setbacks.

It is good to maintain a historical record

The people of Israel did not always know that something they had just experienced was beyond amazing, and that it would change multiple generations. To drive this point home sooner rather than later, God would tell them to place markers or standing stones to mark that occasion. They would refer back to that point in time to remember God’s provision.

We don’t often get such immediate prompts today. So, the markers are often contained in our church’s history. When we look back and see a year with a large number of baptisms, that is a standing stone. When we see a season where God provided despite lean finances, that is a marker. We only have such indicators if we track such trendlines.

It has practical benefits

As new staff members come to your church, they need to see the trendlines of activity, hardships, and blessings your church has experienced to better lead you in the future. If your church ever seeks financing, a lender should always trust annually reported numbers shared with a third party over your best estimates of that history now.

The ACP is a short set of questions to record the condition and activity of your flock. This history is accessible for you online in SBCWorkspace. And it is shared with your association, state convention, and national entities to tell the condition of our shared work in a common mission.

There’s still time to submit the 2024 Annual Church Profile. Please visit SCBO.org/ACP and take 1-2 minutes to complete your church’s profile today.

Spreading Salt and Light at The Ohio State University

By Stephanie Heading, managing editor

Since moving to Ohio from Iowa, Harrison Guetzko has discovered two things.

He loves sharing the gospel with students at The Ohio State University (OSU) and he loves being a Buckeye.

Guetzko is the director of The Salt Company, the college ministry of The Capital Church, Columbus. The Salt Network, which is based in Iowa and partners with Send Network, planted the church in 2021 near the OSU campus.

According to its website, “The Salt Network is a family of churches committed to reaching college students and planting churches in university centers across the country.”

Currently, there are 30 Salt Network church plants in 15 states with 1476 student leaders, and over 8,000 college students participating in the ministry.

In Guetzko’s ministry at OSU, he is sharing the gospel with students in much the same way he heard it when he was in college.

“As a student at Iowa State, I got saved when I was 20,” he said. A realization that he didn’t have his life together motivated Guetzko’s search for meaning.

“God decided to use circumstances in my life to allow me to see my need for Jesus,” he said. “I got saved in October 2016.”

After graduation from Iowa State in 2019, Guetzko entered a Salt Network program to become a Salt Director.

“It’s a two-year residency where you have the ability to assess the call of ministry in your life and what God’s doing with it,” he said.

It didn’t take long for him to know he was heading in the right direction.

“Right away I just saw so much value in being invited into the movement of God on the university campus and inside of the local church.”

In 2021 Guetzko accepted the opportunity to help plant The Salt Company and The Capital Church near the OSU campus.

“It feels like an opportunity to do something that out-lives me. I really wanted to be a part of that,” he said.

Three years later, Guetzko and his wife, Lydia, have settled into life in Columbus and are enjoying their ministry in the Buckeye State.

“It’s The Ohio State University! What other school would I want to be a part of?” he exclaimed. “Jumping on the bandwagon was easy. When your football team wins 11 times a year and that’s a letdown, it’s pretty fun to be a part of that.”

Since its inception, The Salt Company ministry has grown from 20-25 students to over 260 students attending its Thursday night gathering, and The Capital Church is running 275-325 people in service on Sunday morning.

“We are seeing God’s faithfulness in how he is growing our congregation,” he said. “It feels like really deep roots and big decisions to follow Jesus are being made both on the college side and the community side.”

Guetzko is grateful to have a front row seat to the Lord’s work at OSU.

He saw God’s work this past October with The Salt Company Fall Conference. “We annually do this Fall Conference because we think it’s an opportunity for students to encounter Jesus and develop a deep relationship with him and with other people,” he said.

However, Hurricane Helene roared through the southeastern United States and remnants of the storm crossed into Ohio making travel to the conference location on Kelly’s Island impossible. The event was postponed for three weeks.

“What’s ironic is that there’s a Salt Network church plant in Gainesville, Florida, that had their Fall Conference the same weekend,” he said. “They were able to have it, but ours got canceled in Ohio.”

Guetzko rebooked the conference. “We typically have a guest speaker come, but with the rescheduling because of the hurricane, he wasn’t able to come,” he said. “We have two-and-a-half weeks to throw the new one together and to refund people who weren’t able to come anymore.”

Despite the time crunch and the lack of a speaker, Guetzko relied on God, reorganized the event, and served as the primary speaker himself.

Using 2 Corinthians, he preached four messages highlighting how God loves us, transforms us, sustains us and invites us.

“It was a really, really simple framework,” he said. “I felt so thankful for how it felt like the Spirit was leading in the preparation of that because it just felt really natural to say what we wanted to say.”

One student at the retreat stood out. A student told Guetzko that she was walking through a significant season of anxiety and depression that was causing her to lose hope. But by the grace of God, she said that Jesus seemed more hopeful than ever after the Fall Conference.

“She wouldn’t have been able to attend our conference when it was originally supposed to happen three weeks earlier,” he said. “I’m convinced that God worked everything out to specifically have her be in attendance and I’m praying we continue to hear stories like that as we meet with students going forward.”

Resolve to Renew and Refocus in 2025

By Mark Jones, SCBO revitalization consultant

The new year is here and many Ohio Baptists have made resolutions about their diets, workloads, Bible devotions, exercise, and other areas of life.

Perhaps you have made resolutions yourself. If you are like many other pastors, you might resolve to lead differently than you did last year.

According to the dictionary, as a verb “resolve” means to decide firmly on a course of action. “Resolve” as a noun is a firm determination to do something.

Before making a resolution, we must review and assess the need for the resolution. What needs to be resolved in your community? What needs to be refocused within your congregation? What causes you to stumble in your resolve to lead well? What do you need to resolve to have the resolve necessary for revitalization?

My prayer over the next year is to encourage each of us to begin a journey of renewal by refocusing on the kingdom of God and his desire for each of us. Will you “resolve to have resolve” when it comes to renewal by refocusing on his kingdom above all else? May our heart’s prayer be “Father, may your will be done and your kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven.”

To help your resolve, several events are being offered in 2025.

Dr. Richard Blackaby, president of Blackaby Ministries, is coming to Cuyahoga Falls in March to speak on the ways of God.

In May, pastors will be encouraged during the Lead Well Conference in the Northeast Region of Ohio.

Later in the year, Mark Clifton, NAMB senior director of replanting, is coming to Lancaster and the Southwest Region to encourage pastors to have resolve in the journey.

In addition to events, there are multiple revitalization tools available—from the weekend of Awakening to a season of refocusing. This year pastors can become part of Overseer cohorts to assist them in casting vision and developing a deployment strategy.

Resolutions are best accomplished by goals set. My 2025 goals in revitalization are to see six regional congregations go through a Church Renewal Journey - Awaken weekend; ten congregations complete the Corpus Vitae Refocus process; twenty-four pastors complete the Overseer cohort; six additional Pathfinder coaches trained; and ten percent of our congregations complete a Pulse assessment.

Elyria Pastor Named Fire Department Chaplain

By Stephanie Heading, managing editor

A weekly outreach to firehouses turned into an opportunity for an Elyria pastor and church replanter to become the volunteer chaplain for the Elyria Fire Department.

Pastor Joshua Hargis, Elyria Church, and members of his congregation started delivering home-cooked meals weekly to the firehouses in Elyria three-and-a-half years ago.

“We were trying to figure out how to engage the city in a way that was not event driven,” Hargis said. “I asked a few people within the church if they would help and we started making home-cooked meals and feeding the fire department on Mondays.”

About 18 months into the project, the Elyria Fire Chief contacted Hargis and asked him to stop the outreach.

“He felt like we were just doing something unnecessary,” he said. “One of the firemen said, ‘No, I’d keep doing it if I was you.’ So we decided to keep doing it against the Fire Chief’s wishes.”

In May 2024 Hargis heard from the fire department again. “The Fire Chief called me and asked if I would consider being the chaplain and developing a chaplain program for the Elyria Fire Department.

Hargis accepted the offer and in October 2024, he was sworn in as a public servant for the city of Elyria. “I am a volunteer, so I don’t receive any benefits for it other than the ability to be on site and those types of things,” he noted.

Being Fire Chaplain is just one of the many responsibilities Hargis currently shoulders.

“We (Elyria Church) are a small church, a growing church, but also an inner city church, which comes with a whole new set of demands,” he said. “And we just launched a community center, the Black River Community Center.”

Hargis is also married to his wife, Alicia, and they have four young children.

Despite the demands on his time and schedule, Hargis has carved out regular time to spend with firefighters.

“Right now is a lot of relationship building,” he said. “Sitting with them drinking coffee, learning about their families, learning about their hobbies, and those types of things.”

The Elyria Fire Department has four firehouses and among the 75 firefighters in the department, only two are professing believers.

“So there’s a major need to be able to have a gospel ministry in this context,” he said. “On the other hand, they are very private.”

A few months into the job, Hargis is seeing progress in building relationships.

“We’re now getting into the place where I feel like I’m welcomed,” he said. “The first few months I did not feel welcomed, and some went out of their way to let me know that I was not welcome. After some time I’ve been more well received.”

The Elyria Church weekly meal ministry to the fire department has also opened relationship pathways with the firefighters. “Three and a half years of seeing them every week has really helped.”

Hargis made his goals for the chaplain ministry clear to all Elyria firefighters. “The very first day that I met with them I made my introduction and I told them that I was there to be a friend and to be a compassionate, kind help, but the greatest help is a relationship with God through Jesus Christ.”

In addition to building relationships with firefighters, Hargis is also on call for the difficult days, and the fire department has already had one bad day since he became the chaplain.

Two children, ages nine and ten, were struck by a car, and one of them passed away.

“I was called out that night to meet the firemen when they returned to the station,” he said.

He wasn’t able to meet with the family of the victims on that particular day but has since developed a protocol to minister to bereaved families.

“We’ve worked out a way that I have direct access through the fire department and meet the family, be with them, and build those relationships,” he said. “We’ll be able to do that, which will be another avenue of doing ministry within our city.”

As Hargis and Elyria Church continue to find ways to build relationships and engage the city of Elyria, he believes his call to chaplain ministry is a long-term commitment.

“I think that this is a program that I will be investing in, probably until I retire. “Because longevity is key in transformation,” he said. “I want to be around long enough to plant the seed, to watch God work in someone’s life, and to be there to help them walk with God when they’re ready to make that decision.”

Black Walnut Festival, FSBC Camden

“Thanks for partnering with us for our Black Walnut Festival here in Camden. The gospel was put into many hands during the annual two-day event which included connecting with vendors, car show participants, and festival patrons. Thanks to SCBO and Southwestern Baptist Association for partnering to get the gospel out.”

—Pastor Greg Jackson, FSBC Camden

Campus Outreach Concert - H2O Church, Wright State University, Dayton

“Thank you, SBCO, again for the grant to do a concert on the campus of Wright State University! We handed out free Chick-fil-A during the live concert. Three people shared testimonies from the stage and students also heard the gospel proclaimed. Students were invited to experience the same joy, victory, and freedom that was shared in the testimonies. We also had a team of people intentionally sharing Jesus with students sitting down and listening! There were 60-80 people who came through and we have a handful of people we get to follow up with...thank you again so much!!!

Be blessed for being a blessing! We are so thankful to be a part of SBCO and what God is doing at our church on the campus of Wright State University!”

—Pastor Josh Ortega, H2O Church, Dayton

Life Transformation Church, Outreach Event, Dublin

“It was a rainy day but that didn’t stop people from coming to receive food, hygiene and clothing items. As always we prayed before the event and we had more than enough volunteers which gave us more time with the community. Although we saw no professions of faith, we did have gospel conversations and prayed for those we encountered. Two ladies, both with a carload of children, asked us to pray for them and their children. As I was praying, a little boy asked if he could pray too.”

—Pastor David A. Williams, Life Transformation Church, Dublin

Fall Conference, The Capital Church, The Salt Company, Columbus

“Thank you all so much for praying for us and with us! We had an incredible weekend. The weather was perfect, all of the logistics went smoothly, and it seems as though the weekend led to some really incredible growth for students both relationally and spiritually. Our students are currently filling out a debrief from post-conference talking about what their takeaways were, and so far, we have students who want to be baptized, move on church plants in the Salt Network, and dive deeper in their walk with Jesus.

A highlight of the weekend for me was talking to a girl after our main session on Saturday night. We had been teaching on 2 Corinthians 4, where the author, Paul, says that our suffering is temporary and light compared to the weight of glory that is waiting for us in heaven because of Jesus.

She told me that she had been walking through a significant season of anxiety and depression that was causing her to lose a lot of hope, but by the grace of God, she told me that Jesus seems more hopeful than ever before after this weekend. On top of that - she wouldn't have been able to attend our conference when it was supposed to originally happen three weeks earlier. I'm convinced that God worked everything out to specifically have her in attendance this weekend, and I'm praying we continue to hear stories like that as we meet with students going forward.

Your support means the world to us, and your generosity makes weekends like we just had possible for students.”

—Harrison Guetzko, director, The Salt Company, Columbus

Fall Outreach Event - Lifepoint Church, Worthington

“Thank you, SCBO, for the generous contribution to the Lifepoint Worthington outreach event at the end of October! We had a FANTASTIC turnout from the community and saw around 1500 folks come through our area. We had a team of volunteers personally connecting with everyone.

We had a lot of engagement with people through our community board questions that gave us an opening to talk with folks. The questions were: “Does the church have a place in a modern city?” and “Is religion a ‘bug’ or a ‘feature’ in a modern society?”

The funds from SCBO allowed us to feed hundreds of people, provide games, candy, professional photobooth and more!

Our city was blown away by how much we were able to do with our team and said they have never had a church partner with them at this level. They've given us an open invitation to come back to the rest of the city's events. It was a huge opportunity to engage our city and both show and share the love of Jesus.

Thank you so much for your partnership in making this possible!”

—Dan Osborn, teaching pastor, Lifepoint Church, Worthington

The Ministry of Presence after Flooding in Spain

By Dr. John Heading, Ohio Disaster Relief director

The ministry of presence is the first mission of Ohio Disaster Relief. People who experience traumatic events need to talk and express their feelings.

In late October, a massive flood struck the Valencia region of Spain. An Ohio Disaster Relief team responded to a call from missionaries in the area to come and help. Our team went from shop to shop in Paiporta, Spain, with the missionaries to talk to the survivors.

These are their stories.

Andrea is a young, single lady who operates a cleaning business out of a small shop in Paiporta. As her work day wound down on October 29, she was getting ready to make the five kilometer trip to her apartment.

It began to rain.

In just a short time the street in front of her shop flooded. She saw a car float by, and soon a city bus floated past her shop.

Shop owner Andrea with Ohio DR Team members in Paiporta, Spain.

Scared, she called her father and he told her to go to the highest point in her shop, which was a storage room with shelves. She climbed onto the top shelf and for the next seven hours, she stayed there as the flood waters in her shop rose to seven feet deep and began to fill the storage area.

The water stopped rising before it got to her.

Across the street from Andrea's shop was the local exercise club.

We met the guys who operate the club. On the night of the flood they had to knock a hole in the wall to swim out of the club with a couple other people.

We also interacted with the owner of a private police academy who joined his fellow officers after the flood to start search and rescue in the area. He discovered a number of bodies of the victims.

Roseanna cooks Valencia paella for the Ohio DR team.

During our time in Paiporta, we encountered a man who came to help with the flood recovery and was helping rebuild a hostel.

He walked to Paiporta the day after the flood and saw bodies along the road.

Every shop owner on the street had a story to tell, and our Ohio DR team practiced the ministry of presence as we cleaned up the destruction and shared the gospel with many of the storm's victims.

And then there's Roseanna. She is a retired surgeon who hadn't had a long conversation with anyone for over two years.

Our team met her on the sidewalk outside our hotel. We invited her to join us for coffee at the church around the corner, and she said yes. She came every day at 9 am for coffee and conversation. On the night before we left, she made everyone Valencia paella.

In just a few days, on a sidewalk she never uses, Roseanna found a new family. "It's not just work, it's people," said Angela Jolley, IMB missionary to Valencia, Spain.

Disaster Relief is about the people we meet and the hope of Jesus we get to share with them.

"Thank you Volunteers, Always Loved" - Valencia, Spain.

VBS Preview Event Encourages and Equips Volunteers and Leaders

By Myriah Snyder, Lifeway Christian Resources

BRENTWOOD, Tenn. — In January, around 4,000 ministry leaders and volunteers will gather in Nashville, Tenn., Houston and Fort Worth, Texas, and Ridgecrest, N.C., for Lifeway’s annual Vacation Bible School Preview events. These leaders will be immersed in Lifeway’s 2025 VBS theme—“Magnified!” As they learn the VBS songs and motions, play the games and preview the snacks and crafts, they’ll be surrounded by decorations that bring the theme to life.

“We want leaders to experience the fun and energy that encompasses VBS while we take a deeper dive into Psalm 34:3,” said Melita Thomas, Lifeway’s VBS specialist. “As we lead them through Lifeway’s 2025 VBS material, the hope is that they begin to understand the grandeur and greatness of God through both small and large perspectives.”

Ministry leaders will experience firsthand that this engaging theme is meant to point them, and the kids they’ll be leading in VBS this summer, to worship God and reflect on His majesty.

The Lifeway 2025 VBS Preview event will not only explore the theme of this summer’s VBS, but it will equip potential volunteers and church leaders with the training, tools, motivation and inspiration to craft their church’s VBS into an impactful and engaging event for kids of all ages.

VBS impact

Thomas is especially excited about this year’s theme.

Everything from the decor to the music to the activities are designed to point kids to God and who He is as revealed in His creation. Thomas said when a kid or adult starts to notice the tiny details, “that’s when you really begin to see how big God is, who He is and how He cares about even the tiniest of things.”

Once they grasp that, their “only response is to praise Him, to make much of Him, to magnify Him,” Thomas continued.

As attendees learn about Lifeway’s 2025 VBS, they also take a moment to celebrate the immense impact of past VBS seasons. Last summer, Lifeway celebrated its 100th anniversary of ministry through VBS. Each summer, more than 2.5 million participants engage with Lifeway’s VBS curriculum across more than 25,000 churches. Thomas estimates around 70,000 people made a profession of faith in the 2024 VBS season alone. Thomas attributes this massive impact to God, but she’s thankful for the army of volunteers that makes VBS a reality each year in churches across the globe.

Practical breakouts further equip leaders

The VBS Preview breakout sessions will encourage attendees to not only grasp the theme but to understand why VBS is important and why their roles matter. Attendees will leave the sessions equipped with practical tools and tips for the work before them.

Breakout sessions will offer overviews of:

- Teaching resources for every age from infants through adults
- Rotation resources including snacks, recreation, music, missions, and crafts
- Strategies for VBS directors
- Multi-age and Backyard Kids Club resources
- Decorating ideas

Practical sessions are designed to equip new and experienced volunteers in areas including:

- Leading a child to Christ
- Navigating the unexpected at VBS
- Best practices for behavior management
- Effective follow-up strategies
- Creating a safe and secure campus

Additionally, there will be four Spanish breakout sessions. More information about breakout sessions at VBS Preview can be found at Lifeway.com/VBS.

Changing how they view their role

These events are formulated to comprehensively train volunteers who may not be actively involved in Kids Ministry at their church. At the end of the event, organizers, hope leaders and volunteers feel prepared and confident to lead VBS this summer.

“It really changes how they view their role during that week of VBS,” Thomas said.

All the VBS resources will be available for purchase in the event’s Lifeway store at each site. For those who want to touch and assess the materials in a tangible way, this shopping experience is a great option.

The two-day events will take place in Nashville, Tenn., on Jan. 10-11, 2025; Houston on Jan. 17-18, 2025; Fort Worth, Texas, on Jan. 24-25, 2025; and Ridgecrest, N.C., on Jan. 31-Feb. 1, 2025.
