

Jody Jones has a passion to lead worship and to bring God glory through song and praise. She has been leading worship for almost 20 years. Currently, she works with churches to help develop worship teams or coach struggling worship teams to learn to work and grow together for the goal of leading others into a time of intimate worship with the Lord. She is also the worship leader at her church and enjoys writing worship music for her church in her spare time. Find out more about Jody on her Facebook page @jodyjonesmusicandspeakingpage or you may contact her at jodyalltonjones@gmail.com.

My name is Barbara Danbar and I am from Northeast Ohio. I have been with the IMB serving in Japan for 20 years. I am on the Osaka team and our goal is to both strengthen existing churches and plant new churches in our city. This past term I helped an existing church reach out to their community through a kids English/Bible class and I served my community by teaching kids English/Bible classes. With two other team members, I also helped facilitate a group for mothers raising children. I helped with volunteer teams and interns when they came to work with us to reach the Japanese people. While I am on stateside assignment, I want to get to know and pray for the SBC churches. You can contact her at barbara.jn3sixteen@gmail.com.

Beth Mackens is a wife, mother, teacher, and all-around multitasker. She has been married to her husband, Michael Mackens, for 15 years. They have 4 awesome daughters, including their adopted daughter, Jasmine who is deaf. Beth has been teaching high school American Sign Language and Business courses for 12 years and loves working with teenagers. Beth became a Christian at the age of 18 and when her husband said he was going to seminary she didn't understand why it was important that he was going to visit dead people (seminary and cemetery are not the same thing...) If you had told Beth when she and Michael got married that he would become a pastor and they would move nine times in the first nine years of marriage she would have laughed, hysterically. In her spare time, Beth enjoys exercising, reading, and sleeping...she really loves sleeping.

Charly Callahan is a wife, mother, and teacher. She has been happily married to her husband Michael for 14 years and together they have 4 wonderful boys. She has been in the ministry her whole life which has shaped her to want to lead a life of service to others. Charly is the Director of Classical Conversation a homeschooling co-op as well as a church planter wife. She is also serving in the state of Ohio as Vice President WMU. Charly's faith story will bring great perspective on how to grow closer to Christ through tribulation as she has overcome 3 brain surgeries, fostering, adopting, and the ups and downs of ministry from working in the nursery to helping to plant churches.

Charissa Fee longs to be a Bible-based, Gospel-driven, global-minded communicator, event planner, re-organizer and, newly-appointed, homeschool teacher. She loves Jesus, her husband (the banker) and her three children (currently 10, 8 and 3) and has a weakness for almost anything covered in dark chocolate. Charissa tries to steward God's gifts and passions in her family life in Pataskala, Ohio, and as the Assistant Race Director for the Nationwide Children's Hospital Columbus Marathon & 1/2 Marathon.
